FURLA

CASA

Furla is a global brand of accessible luxury rooted in Italian style and handcraft; for over 90 years a byword for quality, creativity, inclusiveness, and carefree elegance.

Founded in Bologna, Italy, in 1927 by Aldo Furlanetto, the company produces high-quality handbags, footwear and small leather goods for a wide consumer audience, mainly women. Aiming to be increasingly a sustainable lifestyle brand with a strong digital connotation but true to its values, Furla has added several product categories to its core business of leather accessories.

Today, the brand's offerings include eyewear, watches, jewelry, textiles, perfumes, and home furnishings and accessories.

FURLA

SINCE 1927 ITALY

FURLA CASA CONCEPT

The entire FURLA CASA project is based on the values around which the brand has built its DNA, authenticity, a focus on made in Italy, the future of tradition, crafts- manship, innovation, and sustainability. The furniture, complements and accessories made reflect an awareness of contemporary living, enhancing its distinctive simplicity, in a fusion of unique and identifying ideas and details.

A home, where the elegant and at the same time physical appeal of the fashion world, merges with the world of design; the curiosity and propulsive energy of fashion that gives drive to concretely create and imagine something uniquely, objects that live with us and around us.

In view of the strong impact on the way of life that the quality of design and style can have, the desire is to create objects suitable for the versatility of contemporary interiors, products that bring warmth and joy to the places we inhabit, reliable and pleasant. One wants to think about lifestyle and passion for beauty with courage.

FURLA CASA COLLECTION

Objects that transmit the awareness of contemporary living, enhancing its distinctive simplicity, in a merging of original and identifying ideas and details.

Exclusive furniture and accessories for living domestic spaces, where the elegant and at the same time physical charm of the fashion world, fuses with that of design; the curiosity and propulsive energy of fashion that gives impulse to concretely imagine something unique, items that live with us and around us. It is the chromatic ensemble, soft and dialoguing that defines the atmosphere of FURLA rooms, warm and welcoming. The use of light tones predominates, whereas using pops of color in the complements to make them powerful, emerging in this way.

The collection offers furniture pieces for the living room, dining room and the rest of the home. Interior furniture lines and products intended to redefine rooms in versatile and personal touches. Textile artifacts and accessories such as pillows, rugs, textiles, as well as table decor complete the line. Finally, collections of objects, from the most practical to the playful, to always carry with you.

Each of the pieces is made from highly selected materials, valuable unique raw materials, including metals and essences, leathers and fabrics, yarns made definitively special by processing methods and weaving techniques, and finally, finishes and detailing made possible by skilled manual processes.

Objects that aim to inspire people's creativity to feel themselves the main interpreters in their own home space.

Geometric and innovative shapes and lines that combine, a timeless and light design that imparts character to the settings in which they can be placed, through a refined aesthetic language and forging an overall harmony.

Everything is measured, consistent with an idea of femininity, a value of identity that goes beyond what it appears but wants to become a language for expressing one's individuality.

The NUVOLA notebook is like an elegant recorder of time. Its classic ribbon - binding design is just like a lively silk ribbon that gently binds precious memories within, and it also resembles the seal on an ancient contract, safeguarding every page of the story that is about to be written. And the textured cover, like an artistic painting after years of precipitation, enables you to feel the profound charm conveyed by its unique texture with a light touch of your fingertips.

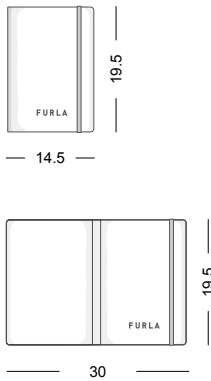

During the journey full of the unknown and novelty, it is the most precious treasure in your luggage. Mountains, rivers, lakes, seas, local customs and practices are transformed into vivid chapters in its embrace. Even in the ordinary and trivial daily life, it can freeze those fleeting beautiful moments, making every ordinary day shine with the brilliance of poetry. With the NUVOLA notebook by your side, writing is no longer a simple record but an incredibly wonderful enjoyment.

The scented candle is just like a piece of exquisite art, and its unique leather exterior endows it with a distinctive charm. When the gently flickering flame dances nimbly on the wick, a wonderful visual feast unfolds. Leather, a material symbolizing toughness and texture, sets off against the lively, warm and vibrant flame. They seem to be in conflict, like the confrontation between ice and fire, the collision of roughness and softness, and the intertwining of the ancient and the new; yet they are also in perfect harmony, as if they were the intertwined threads of fate, jointly weaving a heart-stirring picture. Amid the interplay of light and shadow, each texture is outlined more clearly by the glow of the flame, and each flicker of the flame seems to be telling an ancient and mysterious story to the stillness of the leather, creating an intoxicating and unforgettable atmosphere.
